A CARD FOR 1846.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS who are in the habit of purchasing their Queensware and Chinn in the Eastern Cities, would do well to bear in mind that they have now a chance of saving from $12 to $15 per crate, by making their purchases of the subscribers in Louisville. We are the first in the Western country to offer these Goods at eastern prices, without carriage, thereby making a saving of all feeights and charges to Western merchants, being about $12 to $15 per crate, as also the loss of time in getting their goods. We have taken particular care to find out the lowest eastern prices, and will here give a sample, viz: 3. quart White Granite, or any colour Hexagon Pitchers, $4.50 per dozen; Twifters, or 9 inch plates, Whate Granite or any colour, 75 cents per dezen; Painted Teas 10 cents per set, and 50 sets to $100, or one set to every $2 of bill. The very exorbitant prices at which these articles were sold at in the large cities in the West, was a subject of complaint for many years; we were the first to reduce these prices, and the large patronage that we have received during the past seven years, is ample testimony of this fact; and to to those who are disposed to buy goods at the lowest rates, we can say, give us your patronage and we will certainly give you full satisfaction

THE BEST, AND CHEAPEST, AND MOST UNIFORM SERIES OF STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS

Cincinnati Advertisements.

To those engaged in the important, but arduous task of instructing youth, McGUFFEY'S ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. ONE, Two, Turger and Fore, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FURTHER ALTERATIONS being intended.

Prof. McGuffey's enthusiastic devotion to the cause of Education, his fine faste and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as an instructer, render him peculiarly fitted for the department of authorship, to which he has given his attention. The suggestions of intelligent teachers who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable aid afforded him in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with unusual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works.

works. In this series, comprising as it does, a careful selection of instructive, entertaining and moral matter, progressively arranged, and graduated with reference to the capacity of the pupil, Prof. McGuffey has afforded to parents and teachers, a most thorough, cemplete, and efficient auxillary in the education of youth. Its extensive use has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public.

preciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public.

The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eclectic Readers, having gained for them an unparalleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is enabled, not withstanding the heavy expenditure in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the neatest and most durable manner, while they are now furnished at such low prices, that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best school reading books extant.

JUST PUBLISHED,

McGUFFEY'S RHETORICAL GUIDE; or Fifth Reader, of the Eclectic Series—480 pages, 12mo.; containing copious and minute rules, examples and exercises in articulation, inflection, emphasis, accent, quantity, thetorical pause, modulation, expression, reading of poetry, rhetorical dialogue, gesture, and their collateral subjects, to which are added a great variety of elegant reading lessons, (about one half prose and half poetry,) selected from the most classic writers; farnishing entertaining and instructive specimens of various styles of composition. This work has been prepared with very great care, and with reference to making it a useful, practical, and standard book; and the publisher confidently hopes, that the Rhetorical Guide of Mr. McGuffey is well adapted to supply the wants of classes in rhetorical reading in our Academies, High Schools and Colleges.

Mr. H. said that it was substantially the same act which had passed the Legislature some two or three years ago; and upon which a question was raised as to its constitutionality: but, upon which the Court of Appeals had since adjudicated, and settled that question. Mr. HARLAN, from the same committee, reported a bill for the benefit of Daniel O'Neal and Sarah Graham; which was read, &c. [It provides for the support of two cripples in Lewis county:

COMMITTEE ON RELIGION.

Mr. PETERS, from the committee on Religion, reported the following bills, which were severally read a third time and passed, to wit: A bill divorcing Edward Farrar and Martha Far-

Martha E. Herndon. A bill divorcing Thomas Watson from his wife, Amanda Watson; and

A bill divorcing William Grissam from his wife, Mr. PETERS, from the same committee, to which had been referred the petition of Mary E. Levy, reported for the majority, a resolution that said petition be rejected.

Mr. L. COMBS moved to reverse the report, and enforced the conclusions, which induced him to make the motion by reading from the papers in the case, and remarking thereupon.

Several gentlemen were then heard upon the merits of the case, and amongst others,

Mr. MAYHALL remarked, that he did not know what amount of evidence was before the committee in this case, neither did he care what the evidence was, as he had heard enough read before the House to induce him to believe that this man had maltreated and misused the lady petitioner in such manner that she was entitled to a divorce.

He knew there was a principle imbibed in the English law, (which originated in the dark and barbarous ages of the world, and was handed down from our Anglo-Saxon ancestors, and thus became a principle in the English law-and was still to be found in the common law, which had been adopted in this country to some extent,) that the husband had great authority over his better half, and that the sition was introduced by a preamble: but when the right existed in him to correct and even chastise proposition depended upon statistics and factsthe partner of his bosom, whenever he might think it necessary for her peculiar benefit.

Mr. MARSHALL, a bill to change the times of Mr. M. was of opinion that this principle was obholding the Green Circuit Court: terms to be held selete in this country, and he hoped that at no dison first Monday in April and October, and sit eightant day it would be the law of the land; that when teen juridical days if necessary: referred to commit- it was made apparent that any man mal-treated or used the strong arms of power and brute force over that character, whom, of all others, he should nurture, cherish, and comfort through life, that that should be considered a cause of divorce.

Mr. M. was in favor of divorcing parties in all cases where the Circuit Courts had not jurisdiction, and where it was made apparent that the party or parties were unhappy.

The motion of the gentleman from Fayette, (Mr. Combs) was then carried.

It being now the hour of twelve, the SPEAKER called for the orders of the day; but the rule was dispensed with to give the committee on Religion an opportunity to report under the motion just carried:

Mr. PETERS, from said committee, reported a bill divorcing Mary E. Levy from her husband, James C. Levy. [and restoring the said Mary to her maiden name, Mary E. Galloway:] which was read, &c., and passed-ayes 71, noes 21.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a report from the President of the Board of Internal Improvement, in answer to a resolution of this House, enquiring for estimates of the cost of constructing three locks and dams on Green river; which was referred and ordered to be printed.

SPECIAL ORDER-THE CONTESTED ELECTION. The House went again into committee of the Whole, (Mr. GLENN in the Chair,) on the subject of the contested election from Boone county.

The CHAIR stated the question to be on the adoption of the majority report of the select com-Mr. HARDY proposed to amend the said report by striking the vote of Larkin Von from the list of those reported to have been successfully attacked by Stephens, and inserting a declaration that said vote be counted on the poll of Brasher. Mr. HARLAN desired to know the order. Were we to understand it as the object of the committee to take up the report and go over all the testimony again? He understood the question to be on the resolutions reported by the select committee. The first question certainly was, shall the committee of the Whole concur in the adoption of the first resolution reported by the select committee? and not upon any detached portion of the report.

Mr. HARDY. If a preamble accompanied the resolutions, it would certainly be in order to act on the resolutions first. But now the resolutions involved and depended on the facts presented in the report upon which the committee had at length been fully informed, and now was the time to act. Before the reading of the testimony, and immediately after the suggestions by the Hon. SPEAKER upon the question of order in which the committee acquiesced, he, (Mr. H.) had asked the Chair distinctly whether the course adopted would preclude a motion to amend the report: and the Chair then responded that it would not. These facts, which his motion respected, were not a prelude to the proposition reported, but part and parcel of the proposition itself.

Mr. HARLAN understood that when the question was up the other day, the committee decided to read and investigate the testimony, and then recur to the question on the resolutions. He would be glad if the gentleman from Barren would point out one single precedent, in a similar case, where any other question had been entertained, except the question of concurrence or non-concurrence: Were we to go again into the report to ascertain whether Tom, Dick and Harry should be stricken from the poll? There would be no end to such a course. But it was of no consequence to the House to know the reasons which had induced the select committee to come to the conclusions reported. committee had reported simply by resolution, without any reasoning in the case, then certainly the question would be on the resolutions. This order e-said, was distinctly pointed out by the honorable SPEAKER the other day, and as distinctly agreed to by the committee. If the committee entertained such motions as that now offered by the gentleman from Barren, he repeated, there would be no end to such questions. We should have speech after speech, and readings and references to deposition after deposition, till we should find ourselves not only called upon to correct the facts and reasoning of the report, but the very phraseology itself.

Mr. L. COMBS followed on the same side, and the discussion of the order was continued by Messrs. Kohlass, now reported the action of that body on HARDY, HARLAN, DALLAM, STEVENSON, BOWLING, PETERS, FIN NELL and KELLY; when,

Mr. HARLAN appealed from the decision of the Chair, by which the motion of the gentleman from Barren was entertained. The appeal was taken on the ground that the committee had negatived a similar motion, when it was offered on Wednesday last by the gentleman from Kenton, (Mr. Stevenson.)

And then, after some further conversation and explanations between Messrs. HARDY, POPE and S. SMITH, the committee sustained the appeal. So the motion of the gentleman from Barren was not entertained.

Mr. HARLAN then proposed the following resolution, which was adopted, to-wit: Resolved, That the questions for the decision of this committee now are on the adoption of the resolutions reported by the select committee. The resolutions indicated, were then successively adopted by the committee, and reported to the House by the Chairman, (Mr. GLENN.) The resolutions were then reported by the Clerk as follows, to-wit: Resolved, That George W. Brasher, who has been returned by the Sheriff of Boone, to have been duly elected a Representative for the said county of Boone, at the last August election, to serve in this House, was not duly elected, at the election afore-A bill divorcing Reuben Herndon from his wife, said, a Representative for the said county by the qualified voters of said county.

Be it further resolved, That the petitioner, James N. Stephens, was duly elected a Representative of Boone county, at the time aforesaid, by the qualified voters of said county, and that James N. Stephens is entitled to a seat in this House as a member thereof.

The SPEAKER announced the question to be on the adoption of the resolutions reported. Mr. HARDY then renewed his motion relative to the vote of Larkin Von, by way of amendment.

Mr. COX demanded the previous question. The SPEAKER then directed that the motion of the gentleman from Barren be read for the information of the House; which was done.

The SPEAKER. The Chair regarded the amendment as out of order. He looked upon the reasoning of the committee as not a legitimate subject for the action of the House. In the opinion of the Chair, it was not parliamentary to go back into a report, and correct the reasoning and all the errors into which the committee may have fallen. In his experience he had never seen such a precedent. The only question was on the resolutions now reported by the committee of the Whole: or on some legiti-mate amendment thereto. Mr. HARDY. The statement of the Chair was according to parliamentary usage when the propo-

EMIGRANTS TO KENTUCKY IN AFRICA.

The first band of emigrants to the colony in Africa to be called Kentucky-being a region of country forty miles square, purchased by money raised by Rev. A. M. Cowan in this State-sailed from this city on Wednesday morning last for New Orleans, where they are to be joined by others from Tennessee, Mississippi, and Louisiana, who are to go out to another part of the colony. The vessel in which they are to sail is expected to leave New Orleans on the 20th inst.

On Monday evening, an interesting meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Church, at which the emigrants were present. Mr. Cowan delivered an animated and excellent address to the audience of citizens who were present, after which he addressed the emigrants and the large number of free negroes who came to witness the scene, laying before them the advantages which would arise to them, their descendants, and the native Africans, from their emigration to that land.

From the statement of Mr. Cowan, we gather the following facts: Number of emigrants: fifteen from Jessamine county: fourteen set free by the late Mrs. Meanx, one a free man. Six from Fayette county: four set free by the late Dr. Fishback, and two by Mrs. Fishback, his widow. Nine from Clark county: eight set free by the late Maj. Martin, one a free woman, the wife of one of Mr. Martin's servants. Two from Daviess county, set free by A. H. Trip-One from Warren, set free by Judge Underwood. Two from Dayton, Ohio, a man and wife;

one a native of Kentucky, the other of Virginia. Some who gave their names to go out in this expedition have declined going, but will go out in the next expedition. Others, who intended to go, have not appeared. Two from Fayette county, and two from Barren county, preferred going back, after they came to Louisville.

The whole number who go is thirty five. Twenty men, six women, and nine children. Five of the children are from seven to fourteen years old. Four of the men can read and write; fifteen adults and four of the children can read. One of them is employed to teach a school in the Colony. He has a small but excellent collection of books, and is a member of the Associate Reformed Church. A statement of the condition of the Canada Colony of colored men, written by this person, without any dictation as to matter or style, was read by Mr. Cowan to the audience. He has been in the Canada Colony, and therefore writes from his own observation. A gentlemen present at the meeting remarked to us, that he had seen that Colony, and he would confirm every word of the statements.

Two of them are preachers: one of the Baptist and the other of the Methodist denominations. One of the emigrants is a blacksmith, three are carpenters, one a shoe maker. All of them but five an article in the Union, signed by John P. Heiss, one of its publishers and Printers of the Housewhich article charged him (Mr. Hudson) with falsehood in some remarks which he had made a few days ago, on the subject of the delay in the public printing. He called upon the Clerk to read the article in question, which was done. He then recapitulated the merits of the question-repeated his former statements, declaring them to be correct -and said he did not make them with any desire to attack the Public Printers-that he cared nothing about the attack upon him in the official organ, personally-and only introduced the subject to the notice of the House that the members might dispose of the matter as they deemed proper. If they would consent that any officer of the House might bully and charge a member with falsehood, for words spoken in debate, with impunity, he could not agree with them, but would offer no proposition in the matter.

During Mr. Hudson's remarks, he was two or three times called to order by Mr. McConnell, who said he was attacking the Executive's official organ, edited by Mr. Ritchie, who was far too honest for the gentleman from Massachusetts to touch with a forty foot magnetic pole!

Mr. Davis, of Kentucky, offered a resolution to dismiss John P. Heiss as one of the public printers of the House, for having published a charge of falsehood against a member of the House for words spoken in debate.

Mr. McConnell said he objected to the resolution being read. He objected to it upon suspicion, and moved to throw it under the table.

This resolution called forth some exciting remarks by several gentlemen. Mr. Davis was supporting it, when Mr. McConnell called him to order, and said if he had volunteered to defend the gentleman from Massachusetts, (pointing at Mr. Hudson,) then it was "a dirty business in dirty

Mr. Kennedy followed on the other side, and entertained the House in a high degree, with a war speech for all of Oregon, filled with Hosier tropes, similes, comparisons, and arguments, which were highly amusing, and brought forth rounds and rounds of laughter.

Mr. Tombs, of Georgia, (a new member, a Whig and a man of high reputation as an orator,) next got the floor, when the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

To Deputy Postmasters .- Information has been recently furnished the department, from official as well as other sources, that various devices are daily resorted to, to evade even the present low rates of ostage by an abuse of the privileges of franking; that letters are daily put into the mails having the frank of individuals publicly known to be many miles distant from the office in which they are placed; that postage, when the person franking is known to be at a distance from the place; that the letters of third persons are daily franked by those entitled. blank envelopes, in large numbers, are known to be privilege; that, under the pretence of exchange, ediors often receive newspapers free of postage for Hur subscribers; that newspapers published in one city purport on their face to be published at several other cities at the same time, so that they may go free of postage within 30 miles of each place where they ourport to be published; that correspondence is often kept up between individuals through the medium of those entitled to the privilege, and the letters so reeeived not returned to the office to be charged as remired by law.

The 38th section of the act of 1825 imposes a penalty of ten dollars on any person "who shall frank any letter or letters other than those written by himself or by his order, on the business of his office." tisement, The 24th section of the same law imposes the same penalty on any person "who shall procure, aid, advise, or assist," in such violation of the post-office laws, and it is made "the special duty of postmasters to prosecute for said offence."

It becomes my duty, therefore, to direct that, in all cases where a letter is delivered at your office baying a frank on it and is accompanied to the said of the post-office laws of the post of the post-office laws of the p having a frank on it, and is accompanied by such circumstances as clearly show that is not the letter of the individual whose frank it bears, the frank is in effect a false certificate; that the same should be charged with postage, and the names of the parties thus violating the law, and the witnesses by whom the offence can be proven, be reported to the district attorney for prosecution in the federal courts.

Should postage be in any case erroneously charged, the same will be remitted at the office where received, upon the letter being opened, and proving to e the letter of a person entitled to frank.

Newspapers sent to editors, clearly intended for the benefit of subscribers, should be rated with postage as if directed to the subscriber. In all cases newspapers, passing through the mails over thirty miles from the real place of publiation, should be charged with postage. As it is made your especial duty, by law, to pro secute for such violations of the law, it is expected that you will watch with the utmost care against these unlawful practices; and whenever you have ause for suspicion, use all lawful means to obtain evidence against the offender. Let no effort be remitted, let no dignity of station deter you; but however exalted may be the rank of the officer who shall violate the law in the abuse of the franking privi-
